The Republican State Contral Committee has opened convenient and commodious headquarters on Wisconsin street, near the postoffice, in Milwaukee. All republicans, and especially those of our own state, are cordially invited to call when in the city. All republican papers calliabed in the state, and many of the leading lournals of the country, will be kept on file. II. A. TAYLOR, Chm.

The democrats would like to dispose of their interest in the independents. They are a luxury that is costing the with Grover Cleveland's love for his party too many votes.

It is just seronmingly lumny to see how the independents are making the democratic party squirm by delving into the moral issue.

A personal tribute that is not reciprocated: Says Schurz of Hendricks: "He no more of it. But between the New is a statesman and a patriot." Said Hendricks of Schurz, in 1876: "Ho is a lying Dutchman."

The wheat-fields of the great basic of the Columbia river, a region that is to be come one of the most notable in this country for its productiveness, will form the subject of a paper by Mr. Ernest Ingersoil in the September Harper's.

Mr. Schurz's notion of morals is badly mixed this campaige. He considers that the offense of Cleveland against public morals a venal one; but he tries to show that the charge of dealing to railway stocks by a speaker of the house is a sin that can not be pardeaed.

**SHOULD CLEVELAND WITH DRAW?**

In no presidential campaign since the republican party came into existence has there been such a marvelous change in public sentiment respecting the canadidates and in the present canvass. The readers of the Gazette will remember that when the national republican convention was being hold, one of the strong points arged in favor of Mr. Blaine was that he could be elected without New York. At that time there were not very many prominent republicans who had an abiding faith in his ability to carry the Empire state against Mr. Cleveland. They were sure that President Arthur could not do it, and therefore, on the whole it was proper to nominate a candi-

They say that the Repubfor Cleveland. They say shat the labor vote for their large majorities in that state, and that Butter will take this from them. Upon this assumption they hold that if Cleveland is boaten in New York he still may be elected. The situation is looked upon in all quarters as a magnetic and Ramblicaus say they think it accordance and Ramblicaus say they think it warded at the end of the race on the large man Ramblicaus say they think it belief that he would win in New York, what is the result?

Mr. Blaine has been nominated a little over two months and has gained tremendous additional strength. Mr. Cleveland has been nominated one month, and the charm of his great majority in 1882 has been broken. It was supposed he had special strength, and he posed he had special strength, and he was amounted but now it is seen rhat the posed he had special strength, and he was amounted but now it is seen rhat the promises them absolutely in the season proposed he had special strength, and he was amounted but now it is seen rhat the promises them absolutely in the season proposed he had special strength, and he was amounted but now it is seen rhat the promises them absolutely in the season proposed he had special strength, and he was amounted but now it is seen rhat the promises them absolutely in the season proposed he had special strength, and he connectate platform, and show the working against time. Frank Trammel seeing his brother David was getting the worst of the rough-and-tumble fight, fired at Shelten, missing him, but striking Hugh Denagan in the region of the abdomen, inflicting a fatal wound. Not con tent with this work, Tranmel approached closer to the struggling uses. He placed his pixed in front of Shelton and sent a bullet through his heart, killing him instantly. The Transmel boys then mounted their horses and Transiel boys their mounted range morses and escaped. As they redo away Frank flourished his pistols and cried out: "I am just a lithle the best man in this crowd." A possed is forming to begin a pursuit.

Keene's Racing Trophy.

New York, Aug. 9.—It was reported Friday that the gold Ascot cup won by James R. Keene would be sold at auction by the custom-house authorities because its owner had failed to pay the duty on it or have it ex-reported within the pre-scribed time. A number of gentlemen appeared with well-filled wallets, bound to carry off the emblom. One of them was a modestly-attired clork, with a roll of bills that boked like a music-roll. He said he was bound to put that cup in the Hoffman house but-room if it cost a farm. He did not succeed. The cup was not for sale. It will not be sold before the end of the month, and probably not at all.

Doesn't Like Davitt.

DUBLIN, Aug. 9.—Mr. Biggar, M. P., writes as follows to the organizer of a meeting to be hold at Monaghan on the 15th inst.. at which Mr. Healy is to address the electors "If Mr. Davitt is to be present, I shall not attend the meeting. I dislike his opinions about the nationalization of land, and his general conduct in Irish politics, and I shall not in any way countenance blm." This letter has caused a genuine sensation among all classes of Irish politicians. Its importance lies in the fact that Mr. Biggar is well known to be the mouthpiece of Mr. Parnell.

Gents: After giving the Badger Hange a fair (rist, it affords me great pleature in saying that the teet has been in every respect most satisfactory. I find in it all you claim for it, namely: the most is refect cooking arrangement I have had the pleasure of seeing. Its mechanical construction is so perfect, and the case by which it can be controlled, will enable any one of ordinary intelligence to make its use a complete success. For baking purposes it is first-long. The amount of fuel required for its use is less than any stove I ever saw, that would accomplish as much. Another strong point in its aver, is to be able to keep up a fire, night and day. After holding the fire through might, in the morning we get our breakfast by the same fire, without any addition of coal or delay in knothing. In conclusion, pe mit me to say that if I could not get another I would not part with my range for twice the amount of the purchase price.

Gentlemen: Having a desire to procee a cooking stove that world work with the least possible difficulty in burning coal—as I am about to move to Dakata—I took home and tried one of your No. 8 ladger Stoves, and have now run it several days with the greatest success, and this my first experience in using coal for cooking purposes. It is quick in its action with either coal or wood, heating exercise predictles, with so lack of heating exercise predictly. The baking is beyond question second to no fire I have ever seen in a kitchen.

In reply to how I like the Badger Range, would say it fills the bill in every particular. I have used it with coal, wood and cobs. With coal can easily keep a continuous tire, and it is as ready to bake at aix a clock in evening as at may time of building fresh tire. As compared with other ranges used by my neighbors, I consider the Badger KINO

Assaying Foreign Coin.

[Scientific American.] In the assay office it is a common thing to meit up foreign coin and assay it, preparatory to having it coined into United States money. The process is somewhat complianted. First the coins are weighted in the receiving room, and than they are sent to the melting room, where they are incled, cast into bars, and what are called stips are taken. These are Pittsaure, Ang. 8.—The iron business in this city is duller this well than it has been for many years past. During the panie of 1872 there were mills running that are now desed, and some that are move in operation were more confortably situated for orders than at the present time. This is not already in the case in the iron-mills, but there are other works less active new than eleven years ago. The pig-iron trade is flown to almost nothing. Of sixteen blast-furnaces in the county seven only are in blast, and all others except one are lighted up and are simply waiting for a better market, or rather for prices for pig-iron.

-In addition to the two Shetland ponies shipped to Nebraska on Thursday by Galbraith brothers, they have just sent off two more this morning by express to Mr. W. L. Slimmer, Clarksville Iewa, one of which only weighed one hundred and fifteen pounds, crate and all. Mr. Stimmer inspected several berds of ponies to lowa and Illinois previous to coming to Janesville, but found he was better suited and could purchase much cheaper of the Galbraith brothers. They now have only eight more popies for sale out of the ninoteen head, and they expect to clear them all out during the present month.

-There was a little flurry of excite ment on South Franklin street this morning, which drew the attention of the neighborhood. The 'excitement was caused by a son turning his aged father out of the house into the street, and ordering him to "git." The "old mun's" trunk was taken from the bouse and placed in the street, where it remained most of the forencop, and the son ordered the father to quit the place. Such a scene is seldom witnessed in this coinmurity, and when occurring, the sympathy of the people is generally on the side of inhim old age.

-A good sized andience greeted the Haywood mastodon minstrel company at Myers' Opera house last evening. The performance was more of the "variety" order than that of minstrelsy, in fact there were but two "gemmen of color" on the stage, and they appeared a little below the average. Some of the specialty acts were very good, especially the ventriloquist, Prof. Alf. Dean, being the best ever seen hero; Messrs. Lotter and Cleary's performances on the horizontal bar was very good, and they were greated with several rounds of applause. The "paneramu" part of the outertainment, snowing views along the Hudson, and scenes in Uncle Tom's Cabin might just as well been left out. so far as artistic medit is concerned. As a whole the performance satisfied the audieuce, and at the conclusion they refired with but very little fault finding.

-The young ladies composing the L. A. C. F. club indulged in a sort of leap year party late yesterday afternoon. They chartered the steamer Enterprise, invited ide up the river, returning home late in l the evening. The party was a merry one, and all enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. The gentlemen say the young ladies did themselves great credit in managing the exerrsion. Those who composed the party were: Misses Matikla Bailey, Clara A. Judd, Lou Neal, Franc | Edwards, Lily Neal, Lou Hardenburg, Faunic Ray, Mrs. O. Wells Ray and Miss Peck, and Messrs. Charles D. Stevens, Oscar Baines, John Grubb, Malcom G-Jeffris, O. Coon, editor of the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter, published at Edgerton, has been out examining the tobacco fields, and in his paper of thi week gives the reader the following relating to the weed: "The week closing has been unusually cool for this season of the year and tobacco has not made such rapid progress as heretofore. An abundance of rain too, bas given cause -The republican county committee for complaint of rust though, probably, the crop has commenced on a good many general until the coming week. A ride through several townships of the tobacco region this week, fally impressed upon us the belief that the finest crop of tobacco ever grown in our state, now stands in the fields and only immunity from storms, and fair weather to house it, is asked to make the tobacco grower happy. There is one fact at least that ought to be impressed upon the mind of | every grower, which is: See that the plant is thoroughly ripe before shedding. Last year much of the tobacco was cut too green, a fault which the buyers will seriously object to if it occurs again. There is no excuse for the same error this year as, in all probilities, there will be no danger of frosts for a mouth to come Let your tobacco stand from two to three | if applied for early. weeks after topping and until it fully matures, if you expect to obtain fine goods and the highest market price.

It is difficult to conceive a more har rowing spectacle than a man or woman whose mental vigor makes them fully competent to discharge the duties they owe to society, stretthed upon the bed of pain. LITTLE MISS MYSTERY.

of Chicago Reporters,

Bevelops a Talent for Prevarication Remarkable in One so Xoung -Another Claimant Who Will Be Disappointed.

CRICAGO, Aug. 9.—The mysterious little aiss who made her appearance at the Briggs over a few days are ond soon after dehouse a few days ago and soon after veloped such a wonderful capacity for Mun chansen stories has gone. Her identity is as questionable as everseveral now mames seen added by herself and others to the list. arl Clifford, and Hattle Patch. The latter believed to be her true name. The mys is there'er to be not true name. The mys-tery is evidently from the country. This apart from the extraordinary intelligence which she displayed for a girl of 18 her nest distinctive cheracteristic, for in the languer of her movements, the weary twong of Ler voice, her course features and yellor mir, there is nothing to convey more definit information. As a cariosity she gained very fast, her list of visitors Friday having run up to more than fifty. Many of those who called had misred a yellow-haired sistor, cousin, or daughter, and hoped to find in the mystery the person of the monrued. Martin Welch thinks she is his daughter, but is not quite ure, as he has not seen the daughter question for some ten years past. At the age of 3 years, upon the death of the mother, of his daughter he took her to board with a woman living on the west side. This woman dying, the child fell into other hands, and he says he has lately learned that she has run away. The girl, on the other hand, says she has no father, but that she has a step-father whom she knows but too well for her own good, and that the accommodating Mr. Welch s on the wrong track to find his lost daughter Welch is from Ottawa, and, notwithstanding her repudiation of his claims, she ancounced herself willing to go with him to esape another claimant. The latter is S. Patch, of Henry, Ills., who made himself known by the following telegram to Mr. Upnan, of the Briggs house:

man, of the Briggs house:

"Is lintio Patch there? Girl about 13 years of age. Answer. S. PATCH."

The girl said she knew Patch, but this accounts for nothing, coming from her. Mr. Upham replied to the telegram, and in response another was received from the po-lice at Henry, requesting him to hold her until Patch gols here. The telegram from the chief of police said: "Hold her and whom-ever is with her."

The girl said yesterday that she know the Mr. Patch who sent the telegram very well but that he could not get her, as showfuld not go with him. During Friday Mr. Welsh stood about and syed the girl for awhile and then asked if she would go with him. She replied in the affirmative. By the neon train, girl, father, policeman, and woman in black Blarted for Ostawa.
While Mr. Welsh's daughter is believed to be in Buflalo, and Miss Mystery is in Ottawa with Miss Welsh's father, Mr. Upman, of the Briggs House, is nervously awalting the coming of the man Patch, who may prove to be the real, live, original, and only father.

THROWN OUT OF WORK. Seven Hundred Men Laid Off is the Iron Industry.

Wagelino, W. Va., Aug. 2.—Friday the Labelin Mill company, who work exclusively in nuits, notified boilers, beaters and rollers hat their services were no longer needed, as the company intends to go into making steel rails. This throws 900 men out of craployment. The Belmont and Tep mills, both rail works, will follow suit, and make steel rails. The forge departments of the latter two will be dispensed with in a Cew weeks, which throws about five hundreds more men out of employment. Real estate and business men claim trade will be depressed by this action over 25 per cent. Workmen and families nye to leave our city on accourt of no work Labello will got steel from Pittsburg Entangled in the Ice-QUEBEC, Aug. 9.—The Norwegian bank Actillies is at this port. See is ninery days from London, and had been considered as hist. She had gone too far north, and got into almost impregnable fields at ice. She gos into the jarrion June 7, and a whole month was consumed in finding a weatern route. The weather was very cold, and west winds and fog provided. As the Achilles left the ice a large American ship was seen coming out, too.

Washington Monument. Washington City, Aug. 9.—The main shaft of the Washington monument will be completed Friday. The structure will then be feet feet high. Preparations for the construction of the pyramidal roof of fifty-five feet high, will at once begin and in about a month the immense derrick to hoist the stones of the roof will be in position and work on the monument will be resumed.

Thinks It will Be Hot. Washington City, Aug. 9.—Ex-Sepator McDonald arrived in Washington Friday from his home in Indiana. He thinks the political campaign in his state will be a bo sine. Active preparations for the contest are being made on all sides, and the contest will probably be close. Gen. Butler's candidacy. he thinks, will not affect the presidential ticket, and the fight will be between Cleveland and Blaine.

PINKERTON'S TRAP.

The Accusing Blood That Led a Murderer to Commit Spicide.

Some of the Leading Characteristics of Allan Pinkerton, the Renowned Betective-His Sccret of Success.

[Philadelphia Press.] "I was just thinking," said Capt. R. J. Lindon, superintendent of Pinkerton's Detective agency, on his return from Chicago, where he had been attending the funeral of Allan Pinkerton, "of the wenderful will power and untiring perseverance of the man whose body has been laid to rest. Very for propose affective they were intimately Very few persons, unless they were intinuately associated with him, would believe that any person could possess such a patient persist ence, which surmounted obstacles that to cr-dinary men would appear like impassable mountains. Maj. Pinkerton was a man with a big heart. I don't think he knew how to de a mean thing. He was one of those hon-orable, fair-minded men, who, while giving everybody their due, exacted the same for himself. In matters of business he insisted on getting every penny that belonged to him, and once he made a promise it was lived up to if it cost him every penny he owned in the world. His likes and dislikes were intense. If he became your friend no amount of culturny on the part of your enemy could change his opinion; but if he dis liked you maither arguments nor entroctics could shake him on lots.

his undertakings. If his could not accomnish the prepose by one plan he immediately resorted to another. His mind was wonderfully fertile in expedients, and it was a rare thing for him to fail when he had once set his mind upon success. You can form some idea of his ready that are capacity for planting in the cone of the college, numbers ning in the case of the colored murderer Johnson, of South Carolina, who killed an enemy under the most brutal circumstances. Maj. Pinkerton was pratty positive as to the man's guilt, but it was impossible to ob-tain a complete chain of evidence. With the natural secretiveness of his rare Johnson re-fused to fall into any of the man-traps kid Pinkerton's object. "After weeks of natiout but abortive work.

a novel plan was bit upon. The murderer was surprised one morning when he went be take a plow into a field, to find it spattered with blood. In the open field where he was to work the numberer found little pools of blood along the course he was to plow. When be went back to the stable he was startled by seeing the bloody imprint of a luman hand on the stable door. Every hoe, or rake, or other farm implement that the man picked up had blood on it. When nightfull came the merderer was so paralyzed with fear that his teeth were chattering and he was afruid o go to bed. He believed that the spirit of is victim was becauting him. The detactive and his assistant noted these symptoms, and were confident that the right plan had been struck at last. It had been after a fushion, and there was a horrible proof given the next day. Johnson was found in the harn with his throat cut from ear to car. He had killed kimself rather than endured the tortures of a guilty conscience. I need not explain that the blood marks which frightened the numberer's guilty soul were the work of the detectives, and not of spirits. "It was in that kind of detective work that Maj. Pinkerton excelled. He could change his tactics so that the man or men he was
